Welcome to the UICollaboratory Research Profiles!

In an effort to synergize inter-disciplinary clinical and translational research, the UIC CCTS has partnered with SciVal Experts and created the UICollaboratory Research Profiles. Our goal with the UICollaboratory Research Profiles is to facilitate the development of new collaborations by providing a comprehensive resource of the university's research expertise across the entire health science spectrum.

Welcome to the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Illinois at Chicago!

Fall is a busy and exciting time in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology with our Annual Conference, and faculty and residents interviewing medical students from throughout the country for our seven coveted 1st year OB/Gyn resident positions.

On October 30th and 31st, we held our Annual Conference, "Challenges in OB/Gyn: Pearls for Practice" on the University campus. It was well attended by over 175 physicians, midwives, fellows, residents, medical students and nurses from throughout the Midwest and Florida. The Conference was a great success, thanks to the outstanding contributions from our invited speakers and Department faculty, along with our dedicated conference organizers and staff.

Research in the Department of OB/Gyn

The research portion of our website has been designed to provide information on a variety of research-related resources and support available through our department, through UIC, and elsewhere. Each of the images in the banner above is linked to a different section of potential resources.

Introduction

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology supports and promotes the research activity of our faculty, fellows, and residents to improve the health of women and the healthcare they receive. Current and past research in the department has included basic science, clinical studies and community-based research projects. The Department's faculty, fellows, and residents are working on dozens of projects ranging in topics such as obesity in pregnancy,

RefWorks & Citation Management

RefWorks
RefWorks is a Web-based bibliography and database manager that allows you to create your own personal database by importing references from text files or online databases. You can use these references in writing papers and automatically format the paper and the bibliography in seconds.

Access RefWorks
To access RefWorks from on campus or off-campus, click on the corresponding link below:

- On-campus access
- Off-campus access

NOTE: UIC Library's Default RefWorks user interface will be changing July 25. More information...

Creating a RefWorks account
To set up a personal RefWorks account:

- Click on "Sign up for an Individual Account."
- Use your UIC NetID as your login name
- Use your UIC email address
- Click on "Register."

Google Scholar + Refworks

Save your new citation

- Save your reference into a folder

The screenshot displays the RefWorks web interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the RefWorks logo and the text "Univers". Below the header is a navigation bar with links: References, View, Search, Bibliography, Tools, and Help. A search bar is also present with the placeholder text "Search your RefWorks c".

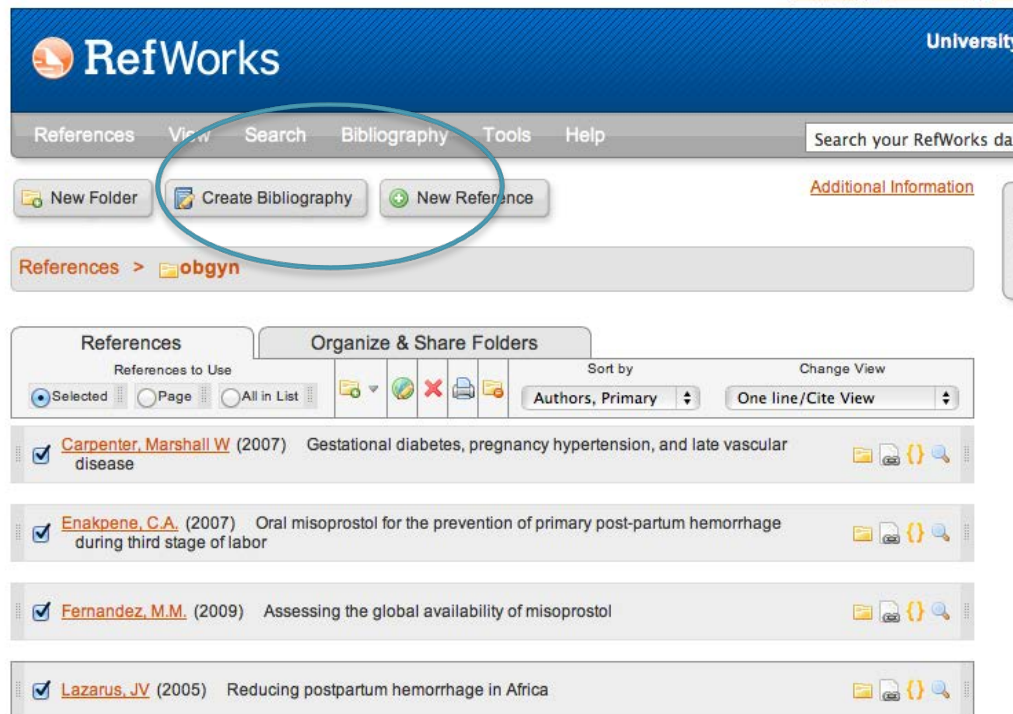

Below the navigation bar, there are three buttons: "New Folder", "Create Bibliography", and "New Reference". To the right of these buttons is a link labeled "Additional Information".

The main content area shows a breadcrumb trail: "References > Carpenter, Marshall W". Below this, there are two tabs: "References" and "Organize & Share Folders". The "References" tab is active, showing a list of references. The first reference is "Carpenter, Marshall W (2007) Gest... disease".

On the right side of the reference list, there is a dropdown menu labeled "Add To". The menu is open, showing a list of folders and lists. The folders listed are "glaucoma (5)", "journal club (7)", "obgyn (3)", "peds (7)", "ppd (14)", "research ethics (7)", and "Uveitis (10)".

At the bottom of the interface, there is a footer with the University of Illinois Hospital & Health Sciences System logo and text: "UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS Hospital & Health Sciences System Changing medicine, for good". To the right of the footer is the UIC Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology logo and text: "UIC Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology COLLEGE OF MEDICINE".
